

TURIYA AUTRY “There is room in the sky for every star – so don’t be afraid to shine!”

Creative Services

For over two decades Turiya Autry has worn countless hats in the creative arts, from poet, musician, actor, educator, producer and more. Through years of training, refinement and educating on the front lines, Turiya now offers her services to educational institutions, non-profit organizations, businesses, event promoters and community leaders. Whether you have an annual event in need of a keynote, or a creative arts program you’re trying to get off the ground – Turiya has the skills and the unique artistry that can take your program to the next level.

Workshops, Class Presentations & Lectures: Hands on and powerfully engaging, Turiya leads workshops for all ages on a variety of topics. Professional development workshops are also available.

Artist in Residency: Through artist in residency programs, Turiya has worked with countless communities throughout America equipping the youth with a greater grasp on the art of language, public speaking and the power of a well-crafted message to change the world.

One Woman Show & Performances: Spell binding and mesmerizing, Turiya captivates audiences across the nation with high energy, thought provoking and passionate story telling.

Keynote Speaker: Speaking as an educator, advocate and entertainer Turiya can deliver the address your event needs.

Author Readings & Book Signings: Whether for a bookstore, an organization, a reading group or a class; there’s nothing like hearing an author in person.

Meet and Greet: An opportunity for a smaller group to meet and chat with Turiya, typically in conjunction with other offerings. For example: student unions/leaders on campus, stakeholders, or organization staff, etc.

Publishing: Throughout her career as an artist, Turiya self-published not only her poetry, but also the work of her students. Over the years she has edited and produced over 20 unique student chapbook collections, as well as 3 of her own. Roots, Reality and Rhyme marks her first self-published, full-length, paperback collection of poetry.

Webinars: On-line workshops, insights and offerings available from any computer, anywhere!

Artwork: Creativity for Turiya doesn’t end with the written words, but finds expression through inspiring art. You can order beautiful cards and wall art. These unique designs are bold, creative and speak to the heart and the art of living well.
